Details of the Recruitment Process

IIT Delhi follows a three-step procedure for selecting candidates for various faculty positions.

- I. Stage 1: Assessment of candidates against the minimum criteria in advertisements and additional academic requirements in the academic unit. At this stage, the information in the application is considered, and the decision is made to call the candidates of interest for interaction with the academic unit.
- II. Stage 2: Assessment of the candidate on the basis of interaction through one-on-one meetings and public presentation. A set of candidates is recommended to the Director, who is the Chairman of the Selection Committee.
- III. Stage 3 (Selection Committee Meeting): The committee of experts interacts with the shortlisted candidates and finalizes the list of selected candidates on behalf of the Board of Governors.

General Guidelines for processing applications for faculty positions

1. Documentation of the criteria used by each academic unit's Faculty Search Committee to invite candidates to Stage 2 be submitted along with the list of recommended candidates.
2. Each unit's professorial committee (COP) is charged with the evaluation of candidates at stage 2 and recommending candidates to the Director for selection. They should obtain the view of the faculty board of the unit to broaden the expertise pool.
3. Reference letters for all candidates assessed at stage 2 are to be reviewed by the COP.
4. For internal candidates, the stage 2 seminar is to be scheduled one day before the date of the interview. Experts are to be invited to attend the presentation to form their own assessment.

PROCEDURE FOR FACULTY SELECTION

Preamble

The institute strives to conduct six-monthly selection cycles so that applicants may get a decision within a reasonable time. However, the decision cannot be communicated until the BOG approval of Selection Committee recommendations, even to the applicants who may cease to be in contention at an early stage in a cycle. The candidature of an applicant against a rolling advertisement (only for Asst. Prof.) must be assessed so that a decision may be reached within 6 months of application, barring cases where the candidate keeps Stage 2 pending.

The faculty board of every academic unit will constitute a Faculty Search Committee (besides the COP) in which every level (including Assistant Professors) should be represented, and which is headed by an experienced Professor (preferably not the head) who will coordinate the evaluation processes throughout the year and take a lead in interacting with the applicants.

For external candidates, comments and feedback should be sought from ALL faculty members in the academic unit, irrespective of their academic rank.

We want to orient our processes to devote more time to assessing promising applicants without being overwhelmed by having to define precise numerical thresholds to advance through stages. The Faculty Search Committee (FSC) of the respective academic units is empowered to take an overall view of the profiles of the candidates to arrive at a decision. This must be supported by a justification agreed to collectively and recorded in the summary sheets. The Selection Committee finally ratifies this document.

Stage 1

Research areas of interest to an academic unit can be updated up to one month before the start of the cycles: the deadlines are Dec1 and June 1, respectively, every calendar year. Many academic units have well-defined groups based on specialization, and they should play an important role in the assessment. For external applicants, all faculty should be encouraged to give their feedback. The practice of feedback in terms of numerical rating and meeting an associated institute-wide yardstick ceases to apply as such criteria are hereby withdrawn. It is up to the academic unit to justify its criteria and waive them for just cause.

After this preliminary filtering, there should be a more detailed scrutiny of the remaining applications in terms of the overall quality of the work and its impact and relevance to the academic unit. This will be related to the standards expected from a faculty member in IIT Delhi and what the academic unit collectively views as critical. To reiterate, this assessment is expected to go beyond numerical metrics and must be supported by qualitative justifications and finally endorsed by the COP with a written statement. If necessary, further information from an applicant can be sought by Chairman FSC and HoD, by teleconferencing if necessary.

It is expected that this will raise the bar for candidates being considered for Stage 2 to direct the limited time of current faculty members towards evaluating only the strong candidates. Candidates who were deemed lacking by the selection committee or the Stage 2 committee in the preceding cycle, need not be reconsidered for stage 2 or selection in the current cycle, even if they continue to meet the threshold to progress to those stages.

Remarks:

- (i) Age criterion for Assistant Professor: The phrase “preferably below 35” is designed to allow exceptional applicants beyond this age limit, i.e., exception on merit.
- (ii) Since we have the post of Assistant Professor Grade II in the 7th CPC, no applicant should be rejected solely because of the lack of post-PhD experience at the level of Assistant Professor.

Stage 2

Stage 2 processing for a cycle may continue after the application deadline for that cycle, but it should be completed at least 2 months prior to the Institute-wide targeted interview dates announced at the beginning of the cycle. Therefore if the target dates for interviews are on May 15, the completed selection file should reach the Dean (Faculty)’s office by March 15. If no candidate is recommended after Stage 1 or Stage 2, it should be recorded formally in a meeting with the Director, so that all the unsuccessful candidates can be subsequently informed.

In Stage 2, the focus should be primarily on evaluation of the impact and significance of work and teaching potential, and the final recommendation should be recorded with a suitably phrased reason without invoking a numeric measure*. To the extent possible, the recommendation should be a collective opinion of the COP. In cases of serious disagreements, the Director/Dean(F) can be consulted.

Remarks

- (i) All effort must be made to avoid hosting more than one candidate for Stage 1 interaction on the same day, so that there is a greater involvement from all faculty members and a more rigorous scrutiny can be ensured. At the same time, adequate attention can be given to each candidate, who should be treated as a potential colleague should be. An attempt should be made to showcase the institute's personnel and facilities, as it enables a candidate to gain a first-hand experience of the workplace and infrastructure that helps in his/her future decisions. If needed, support may be sought from the office of Dean (Faculty) for visits with facilities outside the unit.
- (ii) For the reasons above, a visit is strongly recommended for Stage 2 unless it is felt that a delay could result in losing an excellent candidate, in which case, the seminar, and interaction may be organized on an online platform.
